Villagers hope the carnival is not over

RESIDENTS in Brereton are being urged to get involved in a campaign to revive the village's long-lost carnival.

Ruth Templeton and Steve Hammersley are spearheading the project.

A meeting will be held at the Castle pub next Friday (February 24) to gauge interest, compare ideas and form a steering committee.

The carnival began in 1977 and ran for 10 years, with more than 3,000 people attending the last one in 1986.

A DVD produced by John Vernon celebrating the carnival had archive footage.

Shame

Mrs Templeton said watching it has brought back a lot of nostalgia.

"We're trying to get the ball rolling and bring back some community spirit to Brereton," she said.

"There has been nothing similar since the last carnival was held in 1986, which is a real shame.

"At the meeting we can judge how much interest there it and then we'll see where we can go from there."

The carnival has been earmarked for summer 2013.

The Castle is on Main Road and the meeting will start at 7pm.

Call Mr Hammersley on 07870 147069 for details.

Meeting over aborted plan

RESIDENTS can hear what South Staffs Primary Care Trust has to say about the aborted plans for a new health centre in Cannock.

The Chronicle reported in December that the PCT had pulled the plug on its plans for the centre at the former Hi-Q Tyreservices in Mill Street.

The meeting takes place from 2-4pm on Friday, March 2 at the civic centre in Beecroft Road.

Ex-Pitmen player Gordon 'Joby' Dyas

Death of former Pitmen ace Dyas, 75

A FORMER Hednesford Town footballer who played for the club in the 1950s has died aged 75.

Gordon Dyas, who was known by the nickname of Joby, was born in Hednesford in May 1936 and lived in retirement just a few yards away from his birthplace with his wife Doreen until his death late last month.

As a youngster he attended West Hill Boy's School and Littleworth Senior Boy's School and began his working life as a plasterer's labourer, then a bricklayer, before signing for Hednesford in 1953.

One of his tutors at Littleworth had been Hednesford legend and recently retired former Aston Villa hero Jack Martin. After 46 appearances, Dyas transferred to league side Walsall before joining non-league Burton, Brierley Hill, Halesowen and then back to Hednesford for a three-year stay.

Powerful

Dyas was said to be equally at home in either of the wing half positions and had played alongside three other future league footballers in his first spell at Hednesford; Gordon Westley, Norman Lawson and Gordon Lee.

Club historian Dave Shaw said: "Joby was a powerful little wing-half and his play reminiscent to that of Manchester United's Nobby Stiles.

"However, Joby was a stone or so heavier and much, much quicker.

"I remember watching him play on the old Cross Keys ground in the late 1950s when he overtook and dumped an opposing player in the stand, for the umpteenth time and, as the match official approached, Joby pleaded 'Don't send me off ref, I'll play on the wing'."

Joby went on to coach at lower league Rugeley Villa and Brocton before concentrating full-time on his day job in the building trade.

SHOCK AT ROAD'S SIX-WEEK CLOSURE

HUGE problems for residents will be created when a £750,000 road works project begins in Penkridge later this month, according to a district councillor.

By Tim Spiers

Teddesley Road will be shut for six weeks from March 5, with initial work starting on February 27.

In total, the scheme will take 10 weeks and will include strengthening at the end of the carriageway, as well as resurfacing and improvement of drains.

It takes place between the junctions of Marsh Lane and Cannock Road, where Marshbrook First School is, although access will still be granted to staff, pupils and parents.

Worried

But district councillor Leonard Bates, who represents Penkridge North East and Acton Trussell on South Staffordshire Council, said he was worried about the impact the works would have.

"I'm shocked, it's going to create huge problems for residents," he said.

"It certainly needs to be done – there's a lot of potholes and adverse cambers and there have been a couple of fatalities over the years.

"But when you're talking about 10 weeks, that's an awfully long time."

During normal working hours, when the road is open, engineers will be on site from 9am to 3pm on weekdays with drivers warned some weekend work may also take place.

The six-week closure will be in place 24 hours a day, including at weekends, while a signed diversion route will be in place.

Cabinet member for highways and transport, Councillor Mike Maryon, said: "Well maintained routes through our villages and towns have a big impact on the local economy which is why this major upgrade is so important.

"By investing in the highways network, we can attract new businesses who are keen to make the most of Staffordshire's excellent links with the motorways and A and B roads.

"This helps to create more jobs for the county's residents, which is vital in challenging financial times."

The scheme comes after the county council's cabinet agreed an additional £20 million investment in Staffordshire's road network, on top of the £30 million the county council added to the highways budget in 2009.

Teacher Rob Hatch with Abi Hall and Liam Sharrand, both aged 15 and memorabilia collected from WWI

Memorabilia helps to teach war history

A TEACHER has been bringing history to life for pupils at Staffordshire University Academy with his personal collection of wartime memorabilia.

Rob Hatch has collected the valuable objects from car boot sales and auctions since he was a youngster.

The teacher even stores pens in an American Second World War helmet, although most of his artefacts are from the First World War.

"The handling of them creates such a wow factor for the pupils – it's a real passion of mine and they treat my collection with such respect," he said.

In April, pupils from the Marston Road academy – formerly Blake Valley technology College – will be led on a battlefield tour to Flanders, Belgium, by Mr Hatch.

Armours auctioned off in aid of Bower

TWO suits of armour dating back to the 16th century are to be sold to raise money for this year's Lichfield Bower Festival.

Richard Winterton Auctioneers will auction off the suits, expected to fetch at least £25,000, during an international fine art sale.

They are part of a collection of four suits which the Bower owns and have been on display at the city's St Mary's Heritage Centre.

Auctioneer associate Adrian Rathbone said: "The Lichfield Bower Committee has taken the long and difficult decision to sell two of the four suits to raise essential funds for The Bower.

Transferred

"With such a strong Lichfield connection, it is fitting that the armours be sold in Lichfield by the City's auction house, Richard Winterton, whose family business dates back to the 1860s."

Mr Rathbone added: "Mystery surrounds the origin of the armours.

"For many years they resided in the old Lichfield Museum beside Beacon Park and were later transferred to The St Mary's Centre."

The sale is on Thursday, March 29. This year's Lichfield Bower takes place on June 4 and coincides with The Queen's Diamond Jubilee.

Help to keep noise down

CANNOCK Chase Council has called on residents to report nuisance noisy neighbours to it.

Staffordshire Police does not routinely deal with such concerns but they can be raised via the non-emergency 101 number.

The council said complaints could be logged at www.cannockchasedc.gov.uk/noisenuisance or on 01543 462621.

MP gets into the fundraising spirit

CANNOCK Chase MP Aidan Burley has raised money for charity, by auctioning off the Prime Minister's whisky.

Tory MP Mr Burley offered the House of Commons bottle, signed by David Cameron, at an event which raised almost £7,000 for rugby charity Wooden Spoon. The whisky raised £100 towards the total.

The event, at Birmingham Botanical Gardens, was attended by around 170 business people and former England rugby international David Duckham.

Wooden Spoon's regional chairman, Phil Pemble said: "Aidan provided one of our more unusual auction items and the money raised will be used to benefit less fortunate children who need our help."

Wooden Spoon, which funds playgrounds, refurbishments and building extensions for disadvantaged children and hospitals, held the event to celebrate the beginning of the ix Nations tournament.

The charity also provides golf days and marathon places, as well as a variety of lunches and wine-tasting courses.

The charity raised more than £4.2 million last year, and has helped more than half a million children in 25 years.

New hospital chief in pledge over A&E hours

THE new man at the helm of the trust that runs Cannock and Stafford hospitals has vowed to restore round-the-clock A&E "as soon as possible".

Professor John Caldwell said his role as chairman of Mid Staffordshire NHS Foundation Trust, was "one of the most important jobs in the NHS". He said he wanted to repair Stafford's "broken" reputation for its 300 staff and 3,000-strong community it serves.

Professor John Caldwell

"We have got to make this work," he said.

"It got broken under one set of circumstances and we are putting it back together in another, certainly when you look at the financial constraints.

"But I've never been scared of a challenge. Any job I have done, I have always been able to get things done, to make things happen.

"This is a real job - in some ways it's one of the most important jobs in the NHS. We have got to turn the place round."

Offer

Top of the father-of-two's to-do list is to ensure Stafford's accident and emergency department can safely reopen overnight.

"What people have to realise is that A&E hours were restricted very deliberately because we were unable to offer the guarantee of safe patient care we should be able to," Professor Caldwell, whose wife Jill is an Anglican priest, said.

"That service will be restored as soon as it is safe to do so - not before."

Professor Caldwell, who is approaching his 65th birthday, said improving the "consistency" of care was also a priority.

"The best care that's offered here is very good indeed," said the grandfather-of-two, who helped to instigate changes in the aftermath of the Alder Hey organ scandal in Liverpool.

Goalkeeper in school guest visit

CANNOCK hockey star James Fair will be the guest of honour at a West Bromwich school next week.

The Great Britain goalkeeper will visit George Salter Academy, in Claypit Lane on Tuesday (February 21) as part of a nationwide programme, the Hockey Nation, which will see British Olympic hockey players visit events involving more than 450 secondary schools over the next two months.

The sessions will give thousands of youngsters the chance to try In2Hockey, a version of hockey for youngsters aged between 10 and 14. Fair will coach and host a question and answer session.

Kitchen cooks up 5-star rating

Chef Val Barber, front, with Valerie Pratley and Mick Cornwall and their five star award

STAFF from a Hednesford nursing home kitchen are celebrating after receiving five-star approval from a council health and safety scheme.

The Grange Nursing Home, Cannock Wood Street,earned the award from Rate My Place, which judges health and safety standards at restaurants, cafes and eateries on behalf of councils across Staffordshire.

Chef Val Barber leads a dedicated team serving residents throughout the day. She said the award meant a lot to her, particularly seen as the kitchen was previously graded as three-star.

"Not many professional restaurant establishments can say they've got a five-star rating so we're delighted," she added.

"We've worked hard to get it and of course the challenge now is to keep it.

"I'm very proud of my team."

Rat Pack will get revellers in swing

On your marks for art show

ARTISTS are being asked to get 'On Your Marks' for a display of their work.

Lichfield District Council is starting preparations for this summer's Burntwood Open Art Exhibition.

The seven-day event takes place towards the end of July at Chase Terrace Technology College. A council spokesman said it was a chance for amateur and professional artists of all ages, who live in, work in, or have a link to Burntwood, to be part of an exhibition that hundreds of people visit.

The theme, On Your Marks, is open to interpretation and could be linked to London 2012, sport, mark-making, drawing and much more.

Celia Houghton, Lichfield District Council's Arts Development Officer, said: "They have around six months to create something for the exhibition, which is a celebration of all the local artistic talent we have in Burntwood. We are keen to get all types of work."

Application forms to submit pieces for consideration will be available in the spring. Call Celia on 01543 308224 or email celia.houghton@lichfielddc.gov.uk for more.

Gran conned on tree work

A 92-YEAR-OLD woman paid £300 for sub-standard work after being targeted by bogus tree surgeons in Norton Canes.

The offender, who took a child along with him, conned the pensioner over work on a birch tree in her garden. Police are warning residents not to give work to traders who call unannounced following the incident on January 28

The victim's grandson said: "He charged £120 for carrying out the work and then said he needed a skip to take the branches away which would cost £180.

"It was not the kind of work you would expect from a tree surgeon."

Rock 'n' roll talk

GRAHAM Sutherland will address the next meeting of Cheslyn Hay & District Local History Society. His talk, entitled 'Drainpipe Trousers and Rock 'n' Roll' takes place at the Salem, in High Street, Cheslyn Hay, from 7.30pm on Thursday, February 23. Admission is £1, to include refreshments.

Economy overall winner of apprenticeships

Aidan Burley, Mark Robertson, apprentice Jacob Bond and Phil Bogacki

CANNOCK Chase MP Aidan Burley experienced life as an apprentice at South Staffordshire College.

The Conservative MP visited the college's Cannock Campus, at The Green, as part of National Apprentice Week.

He met and spoke to painting and decorating apprentices and donned white overalls to try his hand at painting and decorating skills alongside apprentices, deputy principal Mark Robertson and lecturer Phil Bogacki.

Mr Burley said: "I am delighted to support National Apprenticeship Week which aims to highlight the advantages of employing and supporting apprentices in the workplace.

"I would like to pay tribute to South Staffordshire College and its apprenticeship programme for their ongoing commitment to securing careers for young people across Staffordshire.

"Apprenticeships are central to the Government's strategy to deliver growth and build a sustainable economy," Mr Burley added.

"They not only help and support people gain the skills they need to succeed and progress in their careers but also help employers to build a workforce with the motivation and expertise they need to compete globally."

Naming of The Shrew to police could force closure

RUGELEY pub landlord fears 'too many' minor incidents being reported to police could eventually put him out of business. The Shrew in Market Street, employs 12 people.

By Harry Gottschalk

John Stead said far too many minor incidents were recorded by police, giving the pub a bad name and leading to a reduction in operating hours.

Last year Staffordshire Police wrote to Cannock Chase District Council with a list of incidents.

Staffordshire Police had 47 issues recorded against The Shrew during the 2010 period and Inspector Chris Ellerton, of Cannock Chase Local Policing Team, says the incidents need to be logged to keep the town centre safe.

Problems recorded at the pub include assaults, criminal damage, drug possession, fighting, theft, and police officers challenging staff about letting people in after certain agreed times.

Perception

As a result The Shrew's bosses have had to enforce a last entry time of 1.30am, with the premises closing at 3am – half an hour earlier than it used to.

Mr Stead says the pub's bad days are over and he feels far too many "non-incidents" are being reported which is affecting people's perception of the pub. He said: "For instance if two blokes get aggressive on the way home from here, it is still classed as an incident from this pub, but they could just be two brothers having a row."

Other incidents reported include a woman who lost her handbag, which she later found, and a drunk found in a graveyard, who admitted he had visited The Shrew hours beforehand.

Mr Stead said since the new hours were imposed, he had seen takings drop by around £500 a night.

The pub has also been ordered to provide at least two bouncers early doors on a Thursday night – at a cost of £14 per man, per hour.

One bouncer is needed at 9pm, at 10pm there must be two doormen and on weekends, four have to stand guard. The pub has also recently spent £4,000 on CCTV.

The Shrew, formerly the Shrewsbury Arms, was the regular haunt of Rugeley poisoner Dr William Palmer.

He was executed in 1856 for killing businessman John Parsons Cook in room 10 of The Shrew.

Trust plea on bird survey

THE Staffordshire Wildlife Trust is appealing for volunteers for a bird-counting exercise throughout the county. The charity needs support to help it collect information on the bird populations on a number of its nature reserves, which include several nationally declining species such as lapwing, spotted flycatcher and red grouse.

To get involved see the Trust's website www.staffs-wildlife.org.uk/page/monitoring-reserves or contact Scott Petrek on 01889 880115.

Open day is engineered for apprentices

Operations director Gavin Wickham (left) and engineering standards manager Dean Mansell show round prospective apprentices at Briggs Equipment UK in Cannock

YOUNGSTERS were given a taste of a potential new career in engineering when a Cannock firm hosted an open day.

Briggs Equipment UK, a forklift truck service provider, welcomed future apprentices to its Orbital Way headquarters for a tour of the company and a CV writing workshop.

Last Thursday's event (February 9) was part of National Apprenticeship Week and saw current company employees hand out advice and talk about Briggs' apprentice scheme.

Last year six apprentices at the company achieved an NVQ in engineering after completing a four-year programme that included practical work and classroom-based learning at college.

Footsteps

Engineering standards manager at Briggs, Dean Mansell, said he hoped the open day would inspire new apprentices to follow in their footsteps.

"Many of our apprentices now enjoy rewarding careers in engineering," he said.

Operations director Gavin Wickham added: "Young people are vital to the long-term future of any business and that is why we take our apprenticeship scheme so seriously."

Briggs is the sole UK distributor of Yale Europe Materials Handling products and employs more than 700 people, half of them in its engineering team.

THE BEST OF PETER RHODES

A 40mph roadworks speed trap on the M5 is nicking drivers at the rate of 17 a day. Very clever. It would be even cleverer if the authorities could tell us how to keep below 40mph on a motorway when all three lanes are full and there's 40tons of juggernaut six feet from your rear bumper with all lights flashing.

❑❑❑❑❑❑❑

A BBC business reporter told us about a company which is big in "aluminum". This is a word used chiefly by Americans who cannot cope with the extra syllable in aluminium.

❑❑❑❑❑❑❑

WHICH leads naturally on to that favourite British pastime, teasing the Yanks. A reader suggests if you have an idle moment, try telling an American that the Shipping Forecast is that day's cricket results:

"North Utsire: Southerly 5 to 7. Moderate or rough. Showers. Good. South Utsire: Southeasterly 4 or 5, occasionally 6. Moderate or rough. Showers. Good."

Yep, what a great match that was.

❑❑❑❑❑❑❑

THE biggest question about Aba Qatada is not why a judge has ordered his release from Long Lartin high-security prison, nor why BBC staff have been ordered not to call him an extremist.

It is why this man, apparently with a long and well-documented history of inciting hatred and supporting terrorism, has never been brought before a jury.

I cannot believe that, given 1,000 years of English law and all the modern laws designed specifically to deal with terrorism, that no charge can be raised against what one judge called this "truly dangerous individual."

❑❑❑❑❑❑❑

ANYWAY, if I were Abu Qatada, I think I'd be happier behind bars than at liberty. There is one thing you can get on the streets of London that you are most unlikely to get in Long Lartin. Shot.

❑❑❑❑❑❑❑

IN THE days since a couple of shrill women forced a House of Commons bar to withdraw Top Totty ale, sales of the Stafford-brewed beer have shot up.

You know you are living in a sound political system when you can make your point simply by ordering a pint.

❑❑❑❑❑❑❑

A QUESTION to one of Fleet Street's agony aunts touched on what must be a huge problem in this lonely age when so many people have no living relations.

A lady asked what might become of all the photos and knick-knacks she had accumulated in her life, which meant so much to her but had no value to others.

We have a friend who clears houses. You would not believe the priceless family treasures that end up on the tip.

He once showed us the diary of a wealthy family who, in 1907, took a steamship to Japan as tourists. It was a priceless slice of history, now utterly unwanted.

Part of it was positively chilling. On the return journey from Japan, the diary writer suggested that tourism would increase in the 20th century and so the port where the steamships arrived in Japan would become very well-known.

A place called Hiroshima.

Youth club helps curb nuisance antics

A YOUTH club in Great Wyrley has noted a significant fall in anti-social behaviour since its launch last year.

The project, funded by South Staffordshire Housing Association, was launched last April with the aim of tackling nuisance behaviour.

Organisers of the Youth Night project are delighted that reports of anti-social behaviour have fallen by 37 per cent since 2011.

Gareth Lloyd, Police Community Support Officer for Staffordshire Police, said: "The community has noticed a real difference since the Youth Night project was launched."

Money from the Housing Association bought TVs, games consoles and a table tennis set helping to establish a popular Thursday games night for young people aged 11-18. Theses are held at St Mark's Church hall in Great Wyrley, from 6 - 8pm.

Despite being granted more funding, the project needs volunteers to create other sessions throughout the week.

Anyone interested should contact Alison McDougal-Brownhill, neighbourhood management officer at SSHA on 01785 312229.

Coroner who led rail safety campaign dies

TRIBUTES have been paid to a former South Staffordshire coroner who was instrumental in improving the safety of trains. Reginald Browning died after a short illness aged 81.

Mr Browning, of Abbots Bromley, leaves two sons and four grandchildren. A service of thanksgiving was held on Monday at 2.30pm at St Nicholas' Church in the village.

Reginald Browning

Son Ben said: "He was a compassionate man and was acutely aware of the grief that families and friends were going through when having to attend and even give evidence in his courts.

"He always tried to make the experience as bearable as possible while at the same time going through the correct procedures."

Mr Browning's long career had included the inquest into the Colwich rail disaster of 1986 when locomotive driver Eric Goode was killed in a collision between two packed express trains near Stafford. A campaign by Mr Browning helped to bring about changes in rail safety.

Capital

Among the safety changes he helped to bring about was the requirement that train doors be automatically locked when in motion.

He had presided over a number of inquests on people who had fallen from trains in an area that became known as the Tamworth Triangle for the number of deaths.

London-born Mr Browning qualified as a solicitor in the capital before moving to Staffordshire in the 1960s.

He worked in the Rugeley office of Hand Morgan and Owen solicitors.

He was a prosecutor for the police and agent for the Crown Prosecution Service, former president of the Staffordshire Society, treasurer of the Browning Society of London and a freemason.

His wife of more than 50 years, Veronica, died in 2010.

Witness call after cyclist is hit by car

A CYCLIST suffered back and leg injuries after being hit by a car in Hednesford.

He was taken to Stafford Hospital for treatment following the collision, which happened at around 4.20pm on Friday, January 27.

The car involved did not stop after the accident, which occurred on the main A460 Hednesford Road. The vehicle is believed to be an 05 plate or newer dark Renault Scenic. It lost its wing mirror in the collision.

Police are now appealing for witnesses. Anyone with information is asked to contact the investigating officer Pc Claire Astle at Staffordshire Police on 101, quoting incident number 484 of January 27.

Or call Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Looking back at Tudor times

Liz Hornsby, of Diversions Then and Now, with Liam Thompson and Emily Taylor

A HEATH Hayes school turned back the clocks for a Tudor day.

Pupils at Five Ways Primary in Langholm Drive, donned period dress to help bring history to life.

More than 80 pupils took part in the event, which was run by educational theatre company Diversions Then and Now.

Youngsters found out about manners at court, learn Tudor dances, make marzipan fruits which were popular in the period and take part in art activities.

Two children were dressed as 'Lord and Lady Five Ways' and were entertained by dances and court jesters.

Leanne Langston, Year 4 team leader, said: "The children had great fun dancing. They all looked great in their costumes, and have learned a lot about life in Tudor times."

Bigger, better is the hope on event

ORGANISATIONS are being urged to make the 2012 Remembrance an unforgettable one – by raising a load of money for charity.

Sgt Ant Richards and Special Sgt Rob Taylor from Cannock Chase Local Policing Team are keen to hear from companies who can contribute to this year's three-day event in Cannock.

Special Sgt Taylor said: "Last year's event had a great turnout and everyone was very supportive. In total we raised over £1,000 for veteran charities and more than 300 packs were sent to our troops in Afghanistan."

This year's event hopes to include a vintage military vehicle display, other entertainment and refreshments.

Special Sgt Taylor added: "We want to make this year's event bigger and better. I would welcome any contributions so please get in touch."

The festival takes place from Friday to Sunday, November 9-11. Fundraising and activities take place on the first two days with a remembrance service on the Sunday.

Anyone wishing to contribute to the event can contact Special Sgt Taylor at Staffordshire Police on 101 ext 2330 or 07976648090.

Talks into running of leisure centres

LEISURE centres in South Staffordshire are losing half a million pounds a year, prompting a council review of how they are run.

Cheslyn Hay and Penkridge leisure centres are among those in the district that make £1.8m. But they, along with venues in Codsall and Wombourne, cost South Staffordshire Council £2.3m, a deficit of £500,000.

Bosses at the district authority have confirmed they are considering following the lead of other councils and asking a trust to take control of the buildings.

Decade

Cannock Chase Council is handing over all leisure centres, museums and theatres to a charitable trust from April 1.

More than £2m of extra investment will be ploughed into facilities over the next decade. South Staffs Council's leisure boss Councillor Joan Williams, said provisional talks over passing control to a trust had already taken place. She said the action had followed a 35 per cent cut in Government funding.

"Our leisure services have always been subsidised and not for profit," she added.

Gang snatch empty safe

A GROUP forced their way into a Huntington home before overpowering the owner and making off with an empty safe. It happened in Long Croft at around 6.40pm on February 3.

The homeowner, a man in his 40s, did not suffer any serious injuries when the gang of intruders, made up of three or four men, forced their way in.

Police believe their car may have been gold or beige coloured. The intruders are described as black and were wearing baseball caps and hooded tops.

Officers are asking anyone with information to ring 01785 234205 or 101.

Family bike ride

FAMILIES can saddle up for a bike ride leaving Chasewater Country Park this weekend. The Cyclists' Touring Club of Walsall has organised the 12-mile ride, which sets off from the South Shore Cafe on Saturday (February 18) at 10am.

Details of fugitive's prison clothes released

John Anslow

POLICE hunting an escaped prisoner – suspected of killing Burntwood businessman Richard Deakin – have released an image of the clothing worn by the fugitive as he fled.

They have also released more details of the car he escaped in and the route it took.

John Anslow, aged 31, from Tipton, escaped from a prison escort van close to HMP Hewell Grange, in Tardebigge, near Bromsgrove on January 23.

A £10,000 reward has been offered for information that leads to his arrest and return to prison. Anslow was wearing a bright blue and yellow prison suit when he escaped.

Attacked

The offenders used a silver VW Scirocco – registration BT59 NXC – before abandoning it and switching to a silver Mercedes. Detectives can now confirm the Mercedes was a grey C63 AMG estate and give more details about the route it took. After the prison van was attacked, the Mercedes travelled north along the B4096 Hewell Lane onto Alcester Road to the M42 junction one island.

It then carried on the B4096 on the Old Birmingham Road towards the Lickey Hills, travelled down Rose Hill and turned left into Lickey Road in Cofton Hackett.

Officers want to speak to anyone who saw the Mercedes or any other suspicious vehicles or activity in the days before the crime – particularly between January 20 and January 23 – in the Tardebigge area or surrounding areas.

All calls to police will be treated in the strictest confidence.

Anyone with information should ring on 01785 232503. Alternatively, call Crimestoppers, anonymously, on 0800 555 111.

Superstore disputes claims of neglect over open space

SUPERMARKET chain Asda has been accused of "neglecting" a community park in Cannock. The area was created as a condition of opening a store in Avon Road in 2005.

One of the conditions for Asda to open the 24-hour store was that a community space was created and maintained on the opposite side of the road.

But Cannock Chase Council leader George Adamson and fellow councillor Tony Williams claim Asda has not stuck to its promise of maintaining the open space and say the site is becoming run down.

Councillor Williams said: "At the time conditions were placed on Asda to provide a park and play area on the opposite side of Avon Road, and for Asda to maintain that area.

"It has come to my attention that Asda are still failing to maintain the area in accordance with the conditions. They need to ensure the paths are kept clear, and keep checks on all the equipment to see that it's safe."

Concerns

But supermarket bosses refuted the claims and offered to meet with councillors to discuss the issue.

Oliver Jones, property communications manager for the supermarket, said: "Asda do maintain land around the store but would be very happy to talk with local councillors if they have any concerns."

The latest fall out comes as a dispute continues over who should keep £500,000 paid by Asda to the council as part of planning conditions.

The cash was intended for an artificial sports pitch at the old Cannock Stadium, in Pye Green Road. But after the stadium was demolished in 2009, Asda has been trying to claim the cash back.

TV expert at museum to value goods

RESIDENTS looking to discover what their old family heirlooms are worth are invited to a valuation day hosted by a BBC television presenter.

Charles Hanson, who has appeared on Bargain Hunt, Flog It! and Antiques Road Trip, will visit Erasmus Darwin House in Lichfield.

The event is being held on Thursday, March 1 in conjunction with Hansons Auctioneers, which has centres in Staffordshire and Derbyshire.

Erasmus Darwin House curator Alison Wallis said: "We're so excited to have Charles back, he's always been a great supporter of the museum.

"Last year was really successful for both the museum and Charles. He found some fascinating pieces so we're all really looking forward to what treasures we can discover this year."

The valuation day takes place from 10am to 4pm and entry is free. There will be a charge of £1 per item assessed with all money raised going to the museum's upkeep and running costs.

Indoor boot camp to finally open

A UNIQUE Army-style indoor boot camp in Cannock complete with assault course is to finally open its doors this weekend.

BC One, located at the former Bristols and Round Building, in Longford Road, hosts an Open Weekend, offering 20-minute taster sessions, from 10am to 4pm on Saturday and Sunday.

The concept is unique to the West Midlands and will create up to 10 jobs. It will be officially opened to the paying public on Monday.

The unveiling will realise the dream of personal trainer Ian Stanley and his sister-in-law Sarah who have both been battling to get the boot camp opened for the last two years. Planning permission has now been passed and all the licences have been granted.

The derelict factory has kitted out with a reception and changing rooms. The £40,000 facilities include an assault course based around the perimeter of the 8,000 sq ft warehouse which includes rope climbs, tyres, monkey bars and cargo nets.

Ian, aged 40, from Great Wyrley, has been a personal trainer for more than 10 years. He said he was delighted his dream of opening BC One had finally become reality. He said: "We have been working on this venture for over two years. BC One doesn't boast any fancy equipment but what I will guarantee is fitness results for any standard."

Manager Sarah, from Cannock, said: "It has taken a lot of hard work from a number of people to get this project finally off the ground but it is going to be worth all the effort."

People who sign up to BC One for the month of March during the Open Weekend will get the rest of February for free. Monthly membership is £35 for peak and just £20 for off-peak.

To join, email info@bc-one.co.uk or find BC One on Facebook.

Objections as revised homes bid submitted

A CONTROVERSIAL 32-home development in Cheslyn Hay has been revived. The New Horse Road scheme had been thrown out by the Government's planning inspector.

By Harry Gottschalk

Developers Morris Homes appealed to the inspectorate after the plans were turned down by South Staffordshire Council.

The inspector upheld the appeal, agreeing with planning chiefs that the scheme would affect other residents' quality of life of other residents.

The development would overlook homes in Park Street and block sunlight, the inspector Brendan Lyons ruled.

Flawed

He said the positive aspects would not outweigh the harm to neighbours' living conditions while the new estate's proposed layout of was inherently flawed.

Tweaked plans have now been resubmitted and nearby householders have already registered objections on the authority's website. Council spokesman Jamie Angus said: "The layout on the northern side has been scaled back and some of the four bedroom properties have been reduced to three.

"There have also been changes to the parking layout."

People have to February 20 to have their say on the plans. Objections range from concerns over a traffic increaseand the development being out of keeping with the surrounding area.

One neighbour, Denise Tapper, said: "I have lived in my property for the last 15 years and have enjoyed the smallholding farm being directly behind my home since moving here.

"This proposed development would end my privacy."

Pupils' wizard day

Chloe Irvine and Jacob Fellows, aged eight, take part in the Harry Potter day at Landywood Primary

THERE was magic in the air as pupilsin Great Wyrley dabbled with potions for a Harry Potter day.

More than 80 pupils from Landywood Primary School, in Holly Lane, dressed as wizards and witches to learn about science and other topics.

Teacher Steve Lane said: "This term we are basing all our work, including reading and numeracy, on the Harry Potter books. Because of that we decided we would do a Hogwarts day. They absolutely loved it."

Accidental death ruling

A VERDICT of accidental death has been recorded into the inquest of a Rugeley man who died following complications in surgery. David Martin, aged 69, of Speechly Drive, died on August 14 last year. South Staffordshire coroner Andrew Haigh, sitting at Cannock Coroners' Court, gave the causes of death as small bowel infarction and pneumonia resulting from surgery.

This competitor braves the elements for the Hell Runner race

It's 'Hell' on the Chase as runners face the elements

MORE than 1,000 people braved the elements for an 11-mile run through frozen lakes and over hills at Cannock Chase.

Entrants came from across the country for the Hell in the Middle. It was the second time the event had come to Cannock.

Part of the course involves running through a frozen lake, and organisers had to break the ice on the morning of the run, so entrants were able to get through the water.

Many of the people taking part finished the race with bleeding knees and shins, where they scratched their legs on the ice.

This did nothing to dampen people's spirits though.

Eddie Goodwin, aged 39 from Cannock, said: "It was very cold and very sharp, but fair play to the organisers and everyone involved in the event because it's all run really smoothly."

Blood

Adam Wall, 28, travelled from Sheffield for the event. He said: "It was a bit evil, but I'm training for the London Marathon so it is all good practice."

Richard Morgan, 30, took part in the race for the second time and travelled down to Cannock from Lincolnshire.

He said: "You just have to force yourself through the water and then before you know it your blood starts to circulate again."

The event gets its name from its geographic location and forms part of the "Hell-Runner Trilogy."

There is a Hell Up North event held in Cheshire, and a Hell Down South event in Hampshire.

The track had changed from last year, but the fastest male entrant was Paul Vernon, who finished the course in one hour, three minutes and 34 seconds.

Angela Armstrong was the fastest woman on the day with a time of one hour, 20 minutes and 12 seconds.

Outrage at speed humps demand

FURTHER to the article on speed humps in Keys Park Road, I have to say I am outraged at those demanding them.

I use that road at least twice a day and as someone who does the speed limit why should I suffer the annoyance of speed humps?

With humps now on Littleworth Road and St Johns Road I will be unable to avoid the car-wrecking nightmares. I could accept a speed camera as that would not affect the law-abiding citizens who don't speed

I have yet to see conclusive proof that speed is a decisive factor in any accident on that road and as such there will be insufficient evidence for a camera. But as speed humps don't require such evidence they will no doubt sprout up.

There are better ways to spend my council tax!

Praise is dished out to hospital

WE only seem to be hearing bad things about Stafford Hospital. I thought I would like to tell you about my experience.

My husband was in Stafford Hospital for one week and two days. The two days were when he went as an emergency to A&E, the treatment he got was marvellous, no complaints at all.

He had to go back a week later for an operation. My husband was on Ward 7, the treatment we received was the best, we couldn't have asked for anything better by all the staff. They were very caring and very very pleasant from surgeons, doctors, nurses and cleaners in fact everyone.

The cleanliness was superb everywhere.

This is not just a one off, people I have spoken to, say only good things.

My husband and I can only give praise and very many thanks to all the people we came into contact with. We had to go back to outpatients and it was the same there.

The staff and the cleanliness is absolutely lovely to see everywhere we went in the hospital.

My husband and I would like to thank Stafford Hospital and the staff for everything and keep up the good work. Well done.

Boogaloo breakfast goes down a treat

MY husband and I visited the new cafe in Hednesford one recent Saturday morning. What a nice, cosy place and we were in the company of Elvis and Marilyn Monroe (in the form of wall decorations).

We were greeted so pleasantly. We had a small breakfast plus toast and butter plus a mug of coffee, it went down very well.

The name is intriguing – it's called the Boogaloo.

It's a little tucked away behind Images at the far end of the town. There are signs outside to show the entrance.

The menu is quite extensive and it also open on Sundays from 10am-2pm, which is fine for those who wish to eat out.

Hednesford does have two other cafes which are excellent and are well patronised, so we are doing well. Something for everyone.

So if you're in Hednesford visit the Boogaloo, you'll be well pleased as we were.

MP didn't speak out at meeting

I WAS quite surprised to read about Aidan Burley MP saying how disappointed he was that Stafford A&E will stay shut until May at the earliest.

I was at the public meeting at the civic suite where Mid Staffs Trust Board members could answer questions from the public. Mr Burley did not say a word about the failure to re-open A&E in March, as we were led to believe would happen. He did not even mention A&E.

He is then quoted as saying how disappointed he is. It's a shame he didn't tackle the board directly.

Like many others I am upset that A&E is still closed. It is vital it re-opens as soon as possible and that it is a fully functional department – not just an upgraded Minor Injuries Unit. The people of Cannock Chase deserve better. We also need an MP who is prepared to stand up and fight for us.

Good to see we are all in this together

IT'S nice to hear the new reduction in public expenditure that the Government is thinking of introducing, that is cutting nursery funding.

It's great to see that we are all in this recession together. Now, let's see where we stand. Housing benefits are cut, benefit caps introduced, there are cuts for the disabled, Employment Support Allowance only runs for six months and students fees are introduced. The elderly are being encouraged to move out of their home to smaller properties, nearly three million people are unemployed but those who do not find job will have their benefits stopped.

The rich are not doing well. The RBS boss has to waive his bonus and one had his knighthood taken away. Does it not seem strange to the less well off that those poor people on millions have to suffer so much, when their million pound bonus would keep many poor and disabled for a year?

PAUL ROGERS

Enlighten me, please

I HAVE two questions I would like to ask via the letters page with the hope someone in authority may like to answer.

If I allow my dog to foul a public walkway and I don't clean it up I am liable to a fine? If so, why aren't the same rules applied to horse riders?

My second question is, most weeks articles appear in the paper where animal owners are given bans for keeping pets. How can this be policed? Surely these people only have to move house and no-one would be any wiser.

I am keen to be enlightened on the above questions.

Megan's in frame as photo contest winner

Competition winners Michael Gray and Megan Titley with The Only Way Is Essex star Lydia Bright

Photo-Me contest winners MeganTitley, aged 20, of Hednesford and Michael Gray

THE NEW face of 5,500 photo booths nationwide has been found in Hednesford.

Twenty-year-old Megan Titley was named the winner of the Face of Photo-Me Competition after fighting off competition from around the country.

Megan and male category winner Michael Gray from Worcestershire, were invited to London to take part in a photo shoot. They also got to spend the evening at Inamo restaurant in Soho with The Only Way is Essex star Lydia Bright. Megan, an admin assistant, said: "The photo shoot was an amazing experience. Michael and I got on really well. We were provided with clothes to wear and a make-up artist."

Idea

It was during a shopping trip in Birmingham that Megan was first approached by Photo-Me representatives.

She said: "At first I said no because I didn't see the point. I thought I wouldn't win anyway but my friend encouraged me and we laughed about the idea of me winning the competition."

After being put through to the final via Facebook, Megan was chosen by judges to represent Photo-Me and have her photograph featured on the photo booths.

Megan added: "I'm quite nervous to think that it's going to be me on so many booths across the country, walking into local stores and seeing myself for the first time will be a surreal experience."

Rugeley Power Station on the horizon beyond the homes

Town made light work of supplying electricity

AFTER the Great War, anyone walking in around Rugeley on a moonless night would find an occasional gas lamp the only thing lighting their way.

MEMORY LANE

By Ken Edwards

They would have been well advised to carry a lantern of some kind, or better still, stay indoors.

However things were about to change.

Brereton Colliery had first produced electricity on a limited scale way back in the 1890s using a small dynamo to supply lights around the pit head, pit bottom and the underground stables.

It was decided in the 1920s to increase the generating capacity by building a powerhouse and installing a 500kw steam powered generator at the colliery's Brick-Kiln Colliery. Four years later that capacity was increased to 1mw.

At first, surplus capacity from these generators was used to light up Brereton Hall, the colliery manager's house, and other houses close to the colliery, but its use gradually progressed to other properties in Brereton village including St Michael's Church. The expansion in the use of electricity by the colliery included carrying the supply on overhead cables alongside the colliery branch railway line to supply the Brickworks at Springhill Terrace and the Coal Wharf at Rugeley.

In 1928 this usage was again extended by the signing of an agreement between the colliery and a new electricity provider, the Trent Valley and High Peak Electric Company, with offices in Albion Street. The agreement was for cables to be taken into Rugeley from Wharf Road for distribution and use by the electric company throughout the town.

This arrangement continued for some six years at which time the Trent Valley and High Peak Electric Company brought their own supply lines into the area from Stockport.

So, gradually, life began to change particularly after dark. First the larger houses, shops and pubs converted to the new electric lighting, then over the next 20years or so everywhere saw the gas mantles fade into oblivion to give way to the tungsten bulb.

The town centres became oases of light, they took on a new appearance with the sudden growth of poles and wires festooned along the roadways and buildings, an unfortunate but very necessary addition to modern living.

Today when approaching Rugeley from the north the glow in the sky from the built-up area can be seen from many miles away.

Technology

From that small beginning when the first electric lamp, powered from the colliery, flickered into life the technology improved immensely and some 37 years later one of the first large combined-colliery/power station installations (Lea Hall Colliery and Rugeley "A" Power Station) in the country was commissioned in 1961.

Rugeley "A" consisted of five generators each one 120 times larger than the one in Brereton Powerhouse which ironically was about to be demolished.

DJ's heart in a spin as he meets his perfect match

Happy couple Wesley Davies, from Rugeley and Kate Linley, who found love through the Reach for the Stars service

A RUGELEY man has made full use of a Midlands-based charity that helps people with learning difficulties find love.

Trident Reach the People Charity's Reach for the Stars service, is based in Birmingham and organises a wide range of social events throughout the year for its 330 members looking for love, friendship or just a fun-filled social life. It has proved so popular that it is looking to increase its range of activities and expand the service to other areas.

Sweethearts Wesley Davies and Kate Linley met at one of the service's "single and mingle" nights, where love blossomed, and they have since become engaged. Wesley, aged 34, and Kate, aged 30, from Erdington, will shortly be moving into their own flat together in Sutton Coldfield – and are looking forward to planning their wedding.

Wesley, who DJs at his local pub and Reach for the Stars events, said: "We met at a Reach for the Stars night and hit it off straight away. I proposed the following year with an amethyst ring, which is Kate's birthstone.

"We are looking forward to moving in together but we really want to get married as soon as possible."

Reach for the Stars started life as a dating group for people with learning disabilities. It organises almost 200 activities a year. For more on Trident Reach or to find out how to support its work, contact 0121 226 5800

Craft fair at wildlife HQ

VISITORS to the Staffordshire Wildlife Trust HQ can browse around a bustling bazaar of handmade crafts next weekend.

The Trust is staging a craft fair at its Wolseley Centre, with all proceeds going towards the conservation charity's work. It takes place on Saturday and Sunday (February 25/26) from 10am to 4pm.

Fundraising assistant Sam Pachner said: "We are going to be covering the whole ground floor of the visitor centre with stalls."

Admission to the event is £1. Call the Trust on 01889 880100 for more.

Firefighter Matthew Greensill and his workmates braved the cold to wash cars at Rugeley Fire Station

A RUGELEY firefighter raised £280 towards a fundraising target of £1,500 by washing cars at the town's fire station.

Matthew Greensill, his workmates and fire cadets who help out at the station in Bryans Lane, spent four hours cleaning cars in sub-zero temperatures.

The 35-year-old is running the London Marathon later this year in aid of the medical research department at the Robert Jones and Agnes Hunt Orthopaedic Hospital in Oswestry.

Father-of-two Mr Greensill, of Cornwall Court, Rugeley, said the team of around 10 volunteers washed 30 cars in exchange for donations towards his fundraising target.

"We are really pleased – it was a pretty good turnout," Mr Greensill said.

Newsman collects his MBE at palace

A RUGELEY journalist has been presented with his MBE by the Prince of Wales. Peter Atkins is a former editor-in-chief and managing director of two Staffordshire newspapers.

Mr Atkins was awarded the MBE in the Queen's Birthday honours for services to journalism and the community of Staffordshire and was among 200 people at the ceremony at Buckingham Palace.

The 70-year-old was also a council member of the Guild of British Newspaper Editors and a member of its parliamentary and legal committee. Through his community work he has helped to raise thousands of pounds for charities.

Mr Atkins was county chairman of the St John Ambulance council and is an Officer of the order of the Hospital of St John of Jerusalem.

He became a director at the Staffordshire Training and Enterprise Council and a member of the Local Review Committee at Stafford Prison.

A founder chairman of the Staffordshire Community Foundation, Mr Atkins remains a trustee of the police-supported Partners Assuring a Safer Staffordshire. He is also a neighbourhood watch co-ordinator.

Death by natural causes

A MAN who worked in the pottery industry for 40 years died of natural causes, a coroner has ruled.

Stanley Conway, of Chapel Road, Armitage, near Rugeley, died aged 84 at Stafford Hospital on September 4 of heart failure and pneumonia brought on by serious lung scarring.

Doctors concluded there was no evidence of silicosis in his lungs and South Staffordshire coroner Andrew Haigh returned a verdict of natural causes.

Grounds for optimism as couple's big day is saved

Hednesford couple Mark Keeling and Lynne Holmes

Rodbaston Hall, where the wedding will take place

A COUPLE faced missing out on their dream wedding – until South Staffordshire College saved the day.

Lynne Holmes, aged 45, and her 46-year-old partner Mark Keeling were looking forward to their big day until they heard their chosen venue Weston Hall was unlikely to be able to accommodate them. Its shock closure left many couples' wedding dreams in jeopardy.

Lynne and Mark, who have been together for two-and-a-half years, are due to tie the knot on April 7.

With little time to find a replacement venue, the despondent Hednesford couple hit upon the newly-refurbished Rodbaston Hall, within the grounds of the college's Rodbaston campus.

"We were so disappointed when our first venue fell through but once we saw this wonderful building, we felt it was fate that led us to Rodbaston Hall," said Lynne.

Excited

"We were especially impressed by the extensive landscaped gardens where a family of peacocks roams freely.

"The staff were really helpful and managed to accommodate the date and our plans for the day.

"The wedding is now only weeks away and we are both excited to have our wedding at Rodbaston."

Set within 180 hectares of land, the refurbished Rodbaston Hall offers a suite of banqueting rooms on the ground floor overlooking the extensive landscaped gardens.

The hall is surrounded by a mix of woodland, gardens, fields and ponds, while peacocks are known to roam freely within the grounds.

The hall houses a relaxing bar, while there is a range of impressive buildings on site including the huge exotic plants greenhouse.

For couples wishing to tie the knot this year, there is availability at Rodbaston Hall until the end of August.

Outstanding hat-trick

A NURSERY has picked up a third consecutive 'outstanding' rating from Ofsted inspectors. Hednesford Nursery School was awarded a grade one in every area.

The nursery in Eskrett Street won similar acclaim after Ofsted inspections in 2006 and 2009.

The inspector's report highlighted that the children's achievement was excellent. It also noted that the quality of teaching was outstanding and the general atmosphere of the school was warm and friendly.

Relocated library to open

CHESLYN Hay's library will reopen today (Thursday) – more than a week after schedule – following its move to a new site. The facility has been moved to within the village hall in Pinfold Lane. The library was formerly sited in High Street and was closed on January 23. It was due to re-open on February 6. Users will not be charged for overdue books.

Market boss sets out stall for leasing popular site

THE man who runs Penkridge market says the popular site could host food and wedding fairs when it is leased to the community. Manager Matt Williams is behind the scheme

By Harry Gottschalk

In a pioneering initiative to raise cash, bosses have made the popular site available for hire. The five-acre plot is now available any day of the week, apart from trading days on a Wednesday and Saturday.

Market manager Mr Williams hopes the scheme will also boost the profile of Penkridge and attract people into the village.

He said the possibilities for the "versatile" site were endless.

He said: "Interested organisations and businesses have a "blank canvas" to play with.

"The great thing about this site is it is so versatile.

Perfect

"It really is a blank canvas which organisers can use however they wish.

"We've got brilliant road networks, loads of parking and the infrastructure to cope with any size event, so we're hoping event organisers will see it as the perfect location."

Events the owners feel the site would be suitable for include craft, plant and food fairs, antique events, classic car shows, wedding fairs, or book, clothes or record sale events.

"We would be happy to discuss any ideas with event organisers," Mr Williams said. "The five-acre site has plenty of parking, an indoor area and facilities such as toilets and a café.

"Marquees can also be erected.

"The site will be available for hire on any day apart from Wednesdays and Saturdays, when the market is on."

The market is situated in the centre of Penkridge, and is located just off the main A449.

For further information, call Matt Williams on 01785 714221.

Villagers' say over spending

RESIDENTS in a village near Rugeley are being asked how council money should be spent in the future.

Lichfield District Council is asking people who live in Armitage with Handsacre what social, recreation, education, community or health facilities they would like.

The authority is continuing to secure more funding, through section 106 agreements with the developers of the site, as each phase of the Hawkesyard Village housing development progresses.

The development will see around 560 homes built on land in Armitage that was part of the Rugeley Power Station site. Around 100 homes are already built.

The developers have already contributed towards improving Rugeley Bypass and other highway works, and will be providing community facilities – including two play areas, public open space, a retail unit, and a travel plan.

For more about the consultation, contact Lucie Ferneyhough on 01543 308218.

Work-related death verdict

A HOUSING surveyor died of a work-related condition, South Staffs Coroner Andrew Haigh ruled.

Philip Richards, of Pennine Drive, Cannock, died on November 24. He suffered from lung disease and asbestosis was confirmed.

Health suite fits the bill at town's leisure centre

Stephen Brown, chief executive of Cannock Chase Council, Peter Burt, executive director of WLCT, Stuart Murray, chief executive of WLCT, Andy Wiggins, WLCT board chairman, Council Leader Councillor George Adamson and Councillor Chris Mitchell, culture and sport portfolio leader try out some of the equipment

A NEW fitness suite in Cannock – part of the town's leisure centre development – is now open to the public.

Profiles Health and Fitness Centre is one of the projects in the £6.5m redevelopment of the 35-year-old Chase Leisure Centre in Stafford Road. It officially opened its doors last Saturday (February 11).

Local councillors, officers and staff were given a pre-launch tour of the 114-station facility, complete with state-of-the-art Technogym Wellness equipment, powerplats and iPod docking stations.

Thrilled

Councillor Christine Mitchell, Portfolio Leader for Culture and Sport, said: "I am thrilled by the opening of this phase of the project which I am sure will prove popular.

"I am also looking forward to the completion of the third phase which will deliver a competition pool, changing facilities and dance studio."

Part of the leisure centre development was funded by the Wigan Leisure and Culture Trust, a charitable trust which won the contract to manage culture and leisure services in Cannock in November.

Stuart Murray, chief executive of WLCT, said: "The equipment here really is cutting edge technology. We hope it will play a major part in helping more people get active and healthier."

Pottery businessman is named Lord Lieutenant

BUSINESSMAN Ian Dudson has been appointed as the next Lord-Lieutenant of Staffordshire following the retirement of Sir James Hawley at the end of March.

The industrialist, whose family ceramics business is based in Stoke-on-Trent, is the current High Sheriff of Staffordshire. He is also a pro-chancellor and chairman of Keele University Council and a former trustee of Lichfield Cathedral.

The father-of-two has served as a Deputy Lieutenant for the last decade and was awarded a CBE for services to the ceramics industry in 2002.

He said: "I am deeply honoured. I look forward to representing the Queen in the county of Staffordshire."

Hats off to Bobble Day

Florence Taylor, Age UK Cannock store manager, Asda store manager Steve Murray, Rosemary Bond, Age UK volunteer, Debbie Blair from Asda, Age UK volunteer Rebecca Foulkes and Sarah Peach from Asda

A SUPERMARKET allowed a local charity to use the store as a base to promote a new fundraising scheme – using furry bobbles.

Asda, in Avon Road, Cannock, allowed staff and volunteers from Age UK, based in Market Place, Cannock, to take over the supermarket's reception area to promote Bobble Day. The charity was charging shoppers £1 for a bobble, which they could then wear to show support to the charity.

Bobble Day is part of Age UK's Spread the Warmth campaign to reach 350,000 older people and ensure they are warm, safe and healthy during the winter.

Seven posts shed at historic estate

SEVEN posts will be axed at Shugborough estate due to funding cuts with volunteers expected to plug the gap. The new staffing structure was put together after consultation.

By Richard Woodall

The consultation period began last November with more than 20 staff.

Bosses say they will be looking for people to take voluntary redundancy while others may be re-deployed elsewhere in the council.

County Councillor Pat Corfield said the historic estate was operating at a deficit of £1m each year despite a recent increase in visitor numbers.

Structure

"We have to reduce the overall cost base and redirect taxpayers' money towards priority frontline services," he said.

"As part of this we needed to move towards a staffing structure that is more appropriate for a visitor attraction. It will mean a streamlining of the management functions, a reduction in operational staff and phasing in volunteers."

Despite a rise in visitor numbers from 113,844 to 127,458 this season, the popular candlelit Christmas evenings will be axed as part of the cost-cutting measures. More than 9,000 people attended last year.

An ice rink will form part of the replacement Gifts for Christmas Winter Fayre event. It will also include a large gift and craft marquee, illuminated gardens and other festive entertainment.

Youngsters show their love

CHILDREN at a Cannock nursery showed their love for Valentine's Day.

The youngsters from Happy Tots, at Orbital Plaza, Bridgtown, crafted cards for the loved ones in their families, baked heart shaped biscuits and made folded heart pictures.

Nursery manager Judy Kelly said: "All the children at nursery are extremely loving every day – they'll often run over and give each other, or a member of staff a hug.

"Valentine's Day helps us to continue to teach the children good social skills, including caring for others and showing kindness and affection. "

Officer and sniffer dog are guests

CANNOCK ROTARY CLUB

FEBRUARY got of to a bang when the guest speaker was Pc Bob Crawford of the Metropolitan Police and his Sniffer Dog Jake, a cocker spaniel.

They work as a team looking for explosives and explosive devices in London.

Bob gave an interesting, thought-provoking and at times amusing presentation about the work that he and Jake do. They were involved in the 7/7 Bombings in London and cleared a number of key areas so that other emergency service people could safely enter the scene to rescue people.

The work they did at that incident was widely recognised and both Bob and Jake have received a number of awards. Jake is now the proud holder of more bravery awards than any other dog.

They can regularly be seen working at Heathrow Airport and have already done work at the new Olympic venue.

Bob showed footage of the Jake in training. Everyone in the room was desperate to meet Jake, so Bob brought him in and the dog immediately began to search the room, but thankfully nothing was found.

This was another enjoyable night at Cannock Rotary Club at the Barns in Huntington.

The demise and rebirth of cinema

Historian Ned Williams – guest speaker

Charles Hanson will visit on March 8

CHASETOWN WI

THE first meeting of the year saw an enjoyable visit from Ned Williams, a man with an impressive knowledge of the history, demise and rebirth of the cinema.

He explained all types of buildings were used for early cinema including chapels, village halls and warehouses. Cinemas belonging to one man became a chain with names like the Gaumont or the Odeon. In this area, the Jervis family owned the Plaza in Chasetown, Sankeys in Chase Terrace and the one in Heath Hayes.

With the advent of television, cinema audiences dropped and many picture houses became bingo halls or closed completely. The Heath Hayes cinema became a carpet warehouse, the Plaza is now Muscle Beach, while flats stand at Sankeys corner.

The Three Spires group meeting is being hosted by Chasetown W.I. on March 8 in the Lawnswood Methodist Chapel at 7.30pm. The speaker will be antique experts Charles Hanson, from TV's Bargain Hunt.

The AGM will now take place on March 28 instead of 21. This is to enable members to take advantage of the complimentary tickets for the chocolate evening at Whittington.

Insight into Air Ambulance

PENKRIDGE WI

AT the February meeting members were given an insight into the work of the Midland Air Ambulance.

The Air Ambulance has three helicopters based at RAF Cosford, Tatenhill and Strensham and covers the whole of Staffordshire and beyond.

Each helicopter carries a pilot, two paramedics or doctor and one other paramedic. The Air Ambulance is not funded by the government and relies on public contributions. It costs £6m per year to run and maintain the three helicopters, amounting to more than £25 per minute that the helicopter is airborne. Each hospital round trip costs £1,500.

Members found the talk very informative and appreciative of the excellent work done by the team.

The next meeting is the AGM on March 5.

Fall at home led to pensioner's death

AN elderly Great Wyrley woman died after she hit her head when she fell in her home.

Hazel Maud Reaney, aged 87, fell in the bathroom of her Walsall Road home and hit her head on the sink on December 29, an inquest at Smethwick coroners office heard.

Daughter Susan Lockett said her mother told her she was fine and refused to go to hospital. "I went to see her on the morning of January 2, she had been sleeping on the sofa," she said. "I woke her and her speech was slurred and one side of her face had fallen."

She died at Walsall Manor Hospital,on February 5. Black Country coroner Robin Balmain recorded that Mrs Reaney died following an accident, but her death was contributed to by natural causes..

Join charity chain gang

Rob Lamb, from the Forestry Commission, and Jo Oldfield from Diabetes UK, promote the Big Bike Ride

CYCLISTS are being asked to get on their bikes to help raise vital cash for charity.

Diabetes UK is calling on keen cyclists to join this year's Big Bike Ride on Cannock Chase. It takes place on April 22 with proceeds raised towards research into the condition.

The sponsored ride will start at Birches Valley Visitor Centre, off Penkridge Bank Road.

Cyclists are asked to aim to raise at least £50. They can set off between 10am and 11am on the day and routes will be marked out.

Participants have a choice of routes from 1.5 miles to 15 miles. There will be an advance registration fee payable of £5 or £10 on the day.

Flytipper caught on CCTV cameras

A MAN caught on CCTV dumping plywood in a country lane has been ordered to pay more than £1,000. At Stafford magistrates court, Michael Lee admitted flytipping waste.

By Marion Brennan

Lee, aged 46, of Showell Road, Wolverhampton, was seen on covert cameras dumping plywood from the back of his white van in Newlands Lane, Cannock, in October 2009.

Council officers kept on his trail despite changes of address after initially trying to trace him through his van registration number.

He was fined £1,000 and ordered to pay £350 towards the council's prosecution costs.

Councillor Janos Toth, deputy leader of Cannock Chase Council and environment leader, said: "When we have the evidence, we always prosecute, however long it takes, and I hope this case serves as a warning to anyone thinking of flytipping in this district.

"Covert CCTV is just one of the tools at our disposal to make sure that flytippers are brought to justice."

Councillor Toth appealed for people to report flytipping, making a note of the time and date, location, description of waste tipped, vehicle registration number and, if possible, a description of the flytipper.

A £100 reward is available for information that leads to a successful prosecution.

Pupils' literary creations

HARRY Potter mixed with Dennis the Menace as pupils in hednesford celebrated Book Day.

St Peter's CofE Primary School in Reservoir Road, Hednesford invited its 449 children, from nursery to Year Six, to dress up as their favourite fictional figure.

Year 2 teacher Sally Winnall said: "We had some absolutely fabulous creations.

"Harry Potter has been creating magic, Dennis the Menace has been very mischievous, sneaking into photographs, we have had a Cat in a Hat, and Where's Wally peering round the corner," she added.

"There have also been numerous princes and princesses and lots of Disney characters, including many from Toy Story."

She added: "It is about bringing the books to life, getting the children to take on the roles of the characters and have great fun talking about the books they like."

Dog cruelty pair get 10 year ban

A CANNOCK couple starved their pet dog to the point of death and have been banned from keeping animals for 10 years. They were also ordered to pay more than £2,000 costs.

By Marion Brennan

Matthew Guy pretended to have found Staffordshire bull terrier Jade in a field when he contacted dog wardens to take her away. His deception was discovered after the previous owners were contacted through data found on a microchip.

Jade was so weak she couldn't eat or drink and had to be put down.

Experts estimated the animal had been starved for at least two weeks and probably longer.

Guy, an unemployed labourer, aged 20, and Claire Cahill, 22, of Oak Avenue, Huntington bought the dog off the internet.

Jacqueline Coley-Fisher, defending, said the pair panicked when they realised how thin she had become but instead of dumping her, they wanted her to be taken in by people who could look after her.

Guy admitted causing unnecessary suffering to a dog and of being in breach of a conditional discharge for criminal damage. They both admitted failing to ensure the animal's welfare.

They were ordered to pay £1,018 each and given a 12-month supervision order. Guy must also carry out 150 hours' unpaid work.

Plug of concrete is final stage in repairing dam

MORE than 100 tons of concrete has been poured into Chasewater reservoir to help support the 200-year-old dam.

The reservoir was drained in 2010 as part of a £5.5 million project following concerns about possible leaks and flooding .

The infill, started on Tuesday, will help control the flow of water when the artificial lake is full and will be the last milestone in the two-year rebuilding project.

The reservoir, which was built in 1797, is having its walls repaired for the first time in two centuries. The work was commissioned after a report by Lichfield District Council warned that urgent action was needed.

The dam will be able to withstand a storm three times the strength of the devastating 2007 floods, said the county council, which on ownership from the district council. It had been argued if it had been put off, a tide of water could have escaped to-wards Shenstone and Lichfield, risking lives.

County councillor Mark Winnington said: "This is the last major milestone in what has been a hugely successful and high-profile project to restore one of the most popular country parks in the Midlands to its former glory.

"The county council has carried out vital safety improvements to the overflow to safeguard nearby residents in the event of severe flooding, which will enable us to monitor the condition of the dam much more closely in the future. The drawdown culvert – the equivalent of the plughole in a bath – was located and inspected for the first time in over 200 years."

Pupils' books boost from housebuilders

HOUSEBUILDERS Taylor Wimpey are helping to spread the joy of reading at a Huntington school.

The leading housebuilder, which is behind the Broadhurst Gardens development in the village, has donated £200 to spend on new books for the Littleton Green Community School library, in Colliers Way.

The school moved to a brand new site in 2009 as a replacement for Huntington Primary and found the books in the library were quite old.

Headteacher Lynn Small, said: "We approached several organisations to see if they could help us buy new books, and Taylor Wimpey was the only one who came forward".

Pupils at Littleton Green have the honour of selecting which titles to buy with the money and are offered the chance to apply for a job as a school librarian.

She added: "Those who were successful are now busy going through the library's database to find which books are the most popular with the pupils."

Carl Cooke, regional sales and marketing director for Taylor Wimpey, said: "As a responsible housebuilder, we recognise the need to support the local community".

He added: "When we were approached by Littleton Green Community School we were only too happy to help and I hope the children have many hours of pleasure, reading their new books".

Broadhurst Gardens offers a choice of homes for families moving to Huntington. For further information call 0845 026 4121.

Littleton Green pupils Rhys Jennings, aged nine, Jo Hemingway, 11, Luke Jennings, 10, and Mia Ingerfield, 10 and Taylor Wimpey sales executive Michelle Cocking

High demand for job club

A NEW scheme aimed at cutting employment across Cannock Chase has been launched.

It follows increasing demand for a council-run jobs club.

Bosses at Cannock Chase District Council say the Work Club it used to run on a Thursday was successful but could not cope with the demand.

The Family Employment Initiative, which is run by charity the Coalfields Regeneration Trust, is now being expanded across the district to help cope with that demand.

The initiative works with families and individuals to provide free one-to-one support to help clients find suitable training, employment and volunteer opportunities.

Guidance

The scheme will run from children's centres, libraries and council buildings.

Councillor Gordon Alcott, cabinet member for economic development, said: "Our experience of running a Work Club has shown that there is real demand for one-to-one guidance and support.

"Whilst the Work Club was successful it could not respond fully to local demand and therefore the Council Work Club on February 10 was the last. Those people needing support, particularly young unemployed people, should engage with the Family Employment Initiative thereafter."

THE CULTURE SHOW

BBC2, 6pm

Mark Kermode knows a lot about films. So if he says somebody should have won an award for their performance in a particular movie, you'd better sit up and take notice. He's about to do just that when he hosts this year's Kermode Awards, which celebrate films and actors overlooked by the Oscars. Andrew Graham-Dixon journeys north of the border to review the National Theatre of Scotland's An Appointment with The Wicker Man, and, as Tate Britain opens its new exhibition Picasso and Modern British Art, Alastair Sooke investigates the Spaniard's relationship with surrealist Roland Penrose.

HOMELAND

Channel 4, 9.30pm

Whenever a hit US series receives acclaim, it always seems to be snapped up by Sky for broadcast, usually, on its Atlantic channel. So it's a nice surprise to see Channel 4 nipping in to nab Homeland from under its big-spending rival's nose. Like In Treatment, this is based on an Israeli series. It focuses on the idea of what might happen if a US serviceman returned home after seeing action, having become convinced that the terrorists he was sent to find were right after all. The opening episode introduces viewers to Carrie Mathison, a CIA operations officer who's received a tip-off from a contact in Afghanistan about a soldier who has been turned into a sleeper agent by al-Qaeda.

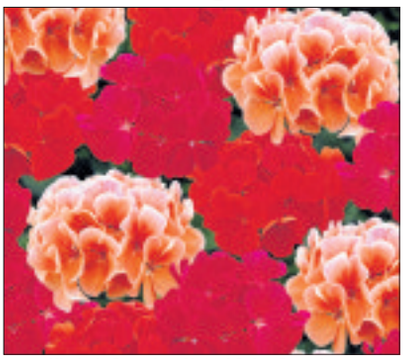
Bright ideas for getting colourful on a budget

Dobies Calibrachoa Superbelle Cherry Star



Kinder's Geranium Hot 'n' Spicy Geraniums

IT may be winter out there, but indoors it is warm enough to grow all manner of seeds and seedlings capable of bursting into new life.

A mild spell outdoors will provide the opportunity to improve soil, get seedlings under way and prepare for a more beautiful garden this spring and summer.

Canny gardeners have realised that buying almost fully grown plants in early summer ready to plant out in patio pots, hanging baskets and garden borders is not the cheapest way of buying plant material. Varieties are almost always restricted and unusual new strains of plants with the most vibrant of colours are not always available.

Pots of flowering bedding plants may be great for the 'instant' gardeners who first touch soil in May, but provide no growing satisfaction for hobby gardeners.The trend nowadays for people who love to get their hands dirty is to buy seedlings or plug plants early in the new year and to grow these plants on until they are ready to plant out. Your garden centre will have plenty of tiny seedlings and plantlets to choose from in February and March or you can order them from a catalogue or the internet.

Mini-petunia

You should be able to find several different coloured geraniums in the New Century family from Appleblossom, through white, orange, to salmon, scarlet and raspberry ripple. Also on offer will be mixed bedding begonias from the Devil and Prelude strains. I shall be growing rooted cuttings of a new mini-petunia Calibrachoa Cherry Star from Dobies.

Seedlings will come in pots containing recently germinated plants that need pricking out immediately into trays of compost so they have extra room in which to develop a good root system and stronger stems and leaves. To achieve those results quickly and easily these seedlings deserve a good compost that is free draining and contains slow release plant foods that gradually feed over several months.

Kinder Garden Plants are sold in trays of 20 cells all ideal for garden beds, containers and hanging baskets. You will find single veined pink, red and mauve Petunia called Reflections and frilly double flowers of white and mixed colours in the Petunia Pirouette strain. Favourite for me are the Hot 'n' Spicy Geraniums that come in pink, salmon and red shades.

To get these tiny treasures growing fast give them root space in a tip-top compost of your choice. For quickest growth and biggest plants choose a potting compost so rich in nutrients it advises you not to sow seeds in it. For maximum flowering potential use Miracle-Gro Expand n' Gro or Moisture Control Compost.

ON THE MOVE IN 2012 WITH CHASE INDEPENDENT

Rugeley Estate and Letting Agent, Chase Independent, is looking forward to a new year with a new look, thanks to a rebrand and refurbishment of their offices in Horsefair.

Meet the team at
The chase Independent Team

Adele Quinney, Lisa Bardell, Michael Kelly, Joanne Thwaite and Michele Dibble

The company - established almost five years ago by Jason Dibble and wife Michele, who heads the lettings division - is enjoying a great start to 2012, following an unseasonably busy December.

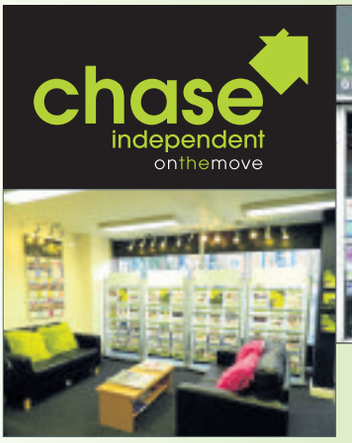
January has already seen a number of purchases, including the sale of one property within 48 hours of it coming onto the market, thanks to the team's hard-work and expertise.

Investment buyers are continuing to keep the market buoyant on lower-priced properties, and relatively low mortgage rates is good news for first-time buyers and existing home-owners alike.

Every rental property on the company's books was let by the Christmas break, and now a much-needed influx of a new landlords in January is helping to meet the huge demand from tenants.

All of which signals a positive year ahead - a positivity reflected in the business's rebrand, introducing a new, fresher look for the firm.

`We're a forward-looking business, with a modern, professional outlook and we want our branding to represent this, which is why we have invested in the new design,' explained Jason.



`We've also refurbished our offices to ensure the clean, contemporary feel of our new branding is continued throughout the business. We're a positive company, and we want everyone who comes into our offices to immediately feel at ease, and recognise that we can achieve all that we promise.'

Another innovation for Chase Independent is their newsletter, which is set out to clients each week, packed with information about the current property sales and lettings market as well as company news, keeping them up-to-date with all developments.

`Communicaiton is vital in our industry, and our newsletter will help ensure our customers keep their fingers on the industry's pulse,' said Jason.

For specialist advice, whether buying or selling your home, contact Chase Independent today on 01889 582233.

As an added incentive to prospective customers, Chase Independent is reducing its fees throughout January and February, from 1.5% to 1%*. (available on a sole agency basis).

Practical makes it perfect

BERLINGO Multispace and Dispatch Combi, two of the most versatile and practical models in the Citroën range, have received new styling and equipment upgrades.

Since its launch in 1996, the Berlingo Multispace continues to be one of the leaders for practicality in the family car segment.

Among the styling upgrades, the new Berlingo Multispace gains a wider, more defined grille, a new chevron badge and a new headlight arrangement. The indicators are now to the side of the main light units and are underlined by blue segments for an even stronger personality.

The model's side mirrors have been updated with a more aerodynamic design, helping to reduce fuel consumption and CO2 emissions. New 'Airflow' wheel embellishers are also available to help improve fuel and CO2 efficiency.

Robust

New Berlingo Multispace is also available with two new body colours, Nocciola and Belle Ile Blue.

One of the most robust, practical and spacious models in its segment, Berlingo Multispace can be specified with up to seven independent seats. The generous interior dimensions can be fitted with the Modutop®, a Citroën design inspired by the world of aviation, which combines a glazed roof with multiple stowage compartments, a dual access boot, individually controlled ventilation and additional lighting for passengers in the rear.

The new Berlingo Multispace is available with a range of efficient engines and gearbox options.

On five-seat versions, the HDi 75 and HDi 90 models now deliver reduced emissions – 135g/km down from 139g/km – thanks in part to the aerodynamic upgrades. The HDi 110 engine is upgraded to HDi 115, providing extra performance.

In the UK, the new Berlingo Multispace is available with three core trim levels, VT, VTR and XTR. The XTR versions are designed for more adventurous families.

One of the largest passenger vehicles in the Citroën range, the new Dispatch Combi combines generous space – up to nine occupants and a large boot – with MPV levels of on board comfort.

Like the Berlingo Multispace, the Dispatch Combi gains a new front end with a wide chromed grille featuring the brand's updated chevron design. The new Citroën brand identity is also clearly visible at the rear. A new body colour, Hickory Brown, updates the range of shades available.

For enhanced peace of mind, Grip Control is newly available, with the driver choosing one of four modes – normal, all-terrain, snow or sand. An optional tyre pressure monitor is also introduced.

The new Dispatch Combi also becomes available with a new six-speed automatic gearbox, which is mated to the HDi 160 engine. Six-speed manual gearboxes are also available with the HDi 95, HDi 125 and HDi 160 engines. All versions feature a dashboard-mounted gear selector for a comfortable and convenient driving experience.

The new Dispatch Combi is available in two trim levels in the UK, Combi and Combi SX. Final UK specification and pricing details for new Berlingo Multispace and Dispatch Combi will be confirmed closer to the April 2 'on sale' date.

New take on dance classic

Matthew Bourne's The Nutcracker, Birmingham Hippodrome

THIS is The Nutcracker but not as you would probably know it, for this is Matthew Bourne's version.

Forget the traditional elements of the classic ballet – apart from Tchaikovsky's music – and enjoy the more contemporary version which enthralled the packed Birmingham Hippodrome.

Billed as one of the most dazzling and imaginative productions ever staged, it lived up to its reputation – combining wit with magical fantasy. It takes you on a journey with young girl Clara from a bleak Christmas Eve in an orphanage through an ice skating wonderland to the candy kingdom.

Different, yes but this version, like the more traditional version, features wonderful costumes – the Knickerbocker Glories and Marshmallow Girls in Sweetieland are superb – and, above all, brilliant dancing.

Sue Attwater

Deloris just divine in joyous tale

Sister Act, Wolverhampton Grand

DIAMANTE-studded nuns happy clapping to a disco beat... what's not to like about the silly but warm-hearted musical Sister Act.

Cynthia Erivo as the funky fake nun

Based on Whoopi Goldberg's 20-year-old comedy movie and more recent West End blockbuster, this joyous tale about a 1970s soul singer who finds refuge from a gangster in the cloisters of a convent had the audience laughing and clapping along.

Only the most po-faced puritan could argue with the show's feel-good vibe and witty songs from chief Disney songwriters Menken and Slater. And young Rada graduate Cynthia Erivo is a revelation in the starring role of soul sister Deloris Van Cartier, with former Coronation Street actress Denise Black a formidable opponent as the Mother Superior.

Sister Act is at the Grand to Saturday (February 18).

Understudy steps into the limelight

South Pacific, New Alexandra Theatre

IT was some enchanted evening for understudy Carly Anderson when she took the lead role of Nellie Forbush on the opening night of South Pacific at Birmingham, standing in for the ill Samantha Womack.

Was Carly second best? Not on your Nellie! The sparky soprano gave a fine leading lady performance in the World War Two musical. The only criticism was a lack of chemistry with leading man Matthew Cammelle, who has a fine operatic voice but as French planter De Becque was de bland.

The best singer was Loretta Ables Sayre, from Broadway, as a desperate, sinister Bloody Mary with a shuffling walk akin to Ozzy Osbourne. Cameron Jack (also an understudy) as the rogue US navy engineer Luther Billis lit up the stage with his mischief and his troupe of hunky Seabees (navy constructors) were a big hit with the ladies. They made an instant impact with big number There Is Nothin' Like A Dame.

There is nothin' like nostalgia and South Pacific delivers for a senior audience. But no amount of West End pizzazz can disguise the fact that the show is dated.

South Pacific continues at the Alex until Saturday (February 18.

Leon Burakowski

Unusual objects help make big noise

Stomp, Birmingham Hippodrome

CASTING its musical magic on the audience at Birmingham's Hippodrome Theatre, Stomp was big and noisy but also irresistible.

It cleverly takes the clutter of every day life, from the kitchen sink to paint cans, and creates one hell of an unconventional orchestra.

Unimaginable use of metal dustbins, matchboxes, tubs, cigarette lighters, water butts and sweeping brushes produced a non-stop carnival of foot-tapping music.

Dressed in old jeans and dungarees, the cast – affectionately known as 'The Stompers' – leaped, spun and skidded around the stage with breathtaking energy and skill to the pounding of their strange musical appliances.

They added brilliant comedy to some routines together with a bit of audience participation. And the whole thing was well received given by the standing ovation afforded to the performers at the end.

ENVIRONMENT AGENCY
Advertisement of a draft decision for an environmental permit under the Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2010

Name of operator: Biffa Waste Services Limited
Application number: EA/EPR/WP3731HU/A001
Type of regulated facility: Disposal of waste by Incineration
Address of regulated facility: Kingswood Energy Recovery Facility, Kingswood Lakeside Business Park, Lichfield Road, Cannock, Staffordshire, WS11 8NQ

The Agency is now at the stage of consultation on its "minded-to" position, in line with the Agency's policies on public consultation.

The draft permit and decision document including supporting documentation, is for the incineration of up to 400,000 tonnes per annum of non hazardous waste, with energy recovery via a boiler and steam turbine. Energy will be recovered from the incineration process in the form of electricity, which will be exported to the national grid.

The Agency is currently minded to issue the Notice to the Applicant having had regard to the information received from the Applicant, responses to the public consultation on the Application, and the Agency's assessment of all this material.

This information is held in registers at the following locations:

The Environment Agency, Sentinel House, 9 Wellington Crescent, Fradley Park, Lichfield, WS13 8RR and Cannock Chase District Council, PO Box 28, Beecroft Road, Cannock, WS11 1BG.

The draft decision documents for the Notice can also be found on the Agencys' website at: www.environment-agency.gov.uk/research/library/consultations/80798.aspx

You can inspect these registers free of charge during normal office hours (9am-5pm, Monday to Friday, not bank holidays). Please ring in advance to arrange an appointment by calling the National Customer Contact Centre on 03708 506 506. You may obtain a copy of documents on the register. A charge may be made to cover the costs of copying.

The Agency will make a final decision on whether to issue the Notice only after carefully taking into account any relevant matter raised in the responses received during this further stage of public consultation. Any statements below to the effect that we "have decided" mean no more at this stage than that this is the decision we are currently minded to reach, subject to this consultation. Any comments should be made in writing by 20 working days from the date of the advertisements' publication to the Environment Agency, PSC, Quadrant 2, 99 Parkway Avenue, Sheffield, S9 4WF.

Email psc@environment-agency.gov.uk

Or you can write to PSC - EP Team, Quadrant 2, 99 Parkway Avenue, Sheffield, S9 4WF.

Guidance on decision-making under the Regulations can be found at http://www.environment-agency.gov.uk/business/topics/permitting/32320.aspx. This guidance explains what factors are relevant to our determination.

Please note that any comments we receive must normally be placed on the public register. If you do not want your representation to appear on the public register, you should make a request to this effect.

Two hits by Butler help see off sixths

Cannock fifths 5
Cannock sixths 3

SATURDAY belonged to Cannock fifths as they won the battle for club bragging rights.

Karl Owen's fifths are top while the sixths are bottom of North West One Division.

However, the sixths team are not a bad side and ran the fifths close in October.

The fifths took the lead through a Tim Butler short corner and a Darren Pugh steal before first team team coach Andy Mitchell smashed one into the bottom corner for the sixths.

Butler got his second but before half-time Cameron Beswick converted from a long ball for the sixths.

Gurpal Mann made it 4-2 from a well-worked short corner and Don Clark finished after good work from Tom Bunn for the fifth goal.

The sixths had the last word with a Richard Chambers drag flick.

Cannock seconds drew 0-0 with Barford Tigers, while the seventhes smashed Old Wulfrunians 10-4 thanks to six goals from Richard Sadler, a brace for Derek Prince and goals from Keith Cooke and Phil Hubert.

On Sunday, Cannock Stags drew 1-1 with Birmingham Uni Lions thanks to an Ollie Westbrook goal.

The fourths won 7-1 at Leek where Callum Stacey notched a hat-trick, Chris Mayer scored twice and Tom Bunn and Ethan Sweeney also found the mark.

Cannock Badgers B drew 0-0 with Leek Badgers while a Cannock mixed team beat Barford Tigers – who could field only 10 players – 11-1.

Debutant Chris Roberts hit a hat-trick, Paul Harris got four and Sarah Martin, Lewis Jecketts, Dan Beck, and Ashley Moncada scored.

Skipper leads way to victory

Lichfield Round Table 2
Chase Athletic U14 3

CHASE have finally found their feet at the top level – as this result against the previously unbeaten leaders demonstrates.

The visitors had made a slow start following promotion from Division Two, but have now gone five games without loss and stunned the hosts thanks to two strikes from skipper Josh Wilding. Chase led three times, with Spencer Hands scoring the first, and showed resilience to claim the win.

Cannock go second after beating leaders

Cannock 4 East Grinstead 2

CANNOCK emerged victorious in a game crucial for both sides at the top of the National Premier League.

They now stand second in the Premier League, just one point behind East Grinstead with only six games remaining in the season.

Cannock looked to impose themselves from the outset on Sunday and created the clearer of the chances in the opening exchanges.

The early dominance was rewarded on six minutes when a well-worked short corner was well saved by the East Grinstead goalkeeper, only to be pounced on by Matt Plunkett. The celebrations were short-lived, however, when Cannock's basics began to desert them and were punished by a clinical short corner from East Grinstead's Taylor.

The Cannock resilience and spirit came to the fore again as they began to create more chances and were rewarded six minutes later through another short corner being converted by Plunkett.

East Grinstead looked to work their way back into the game and a barrage of short corners in overtime at the end of the first half finally saw Cannock's defence breached, leaving the score at 2-2 as the sides went into the break.

Some rousing words from coach Andy Mitchell and Marc 'the Enforcer' Edwards saw the home side emerge with a steely determination to seize the opportunity in front of them.

Cannock dominated the second half from the off and created a number of chances with the East Grinstead goalkeeper making vital saves.

Cannock continued to rotate through the lines of midfield and attack and began to create a number of clear-cut chances, which they were unable to convert.

The stalemate was finally broken by Dave Harris with an unstoppable flick into the bottom left corner on 57 minutes.

The home crowd really picked up the volume in the final 10 minutes, proving invaluable to the tirelessly-working Cannock side.

Individual moments of flair from Will Hearne, Jack Wells and Arjan Drayton-Chana added the spice to a professional second half from Cannock. In the dying moments of the game, Cannock worked the ball well into the corners to kill time.

However, Stuart Gooderham decided otherwise, beating three defenders along the baseline before slipping the ball back to the Premier League's joint top-scorer, Harris, to seal a fantastic win for the home side.

Cannock now look to this Friday for their EH Cup Quarter-Final game away at third-placed Beeston.

Then it's a trip down to Surbiton on Sunday in another crucial game for the Cannock side.

Sacked after defeat, demos and apology

Wolves 1 Albion 5

A CRUSHING defeat at the hands of their local rivals sealed the fate of manager Mick McCarthy.

The abject display even brought a public apology from the Wolves boss, writes Tim Nash.

But his "sorry" after Sunday's game was not enough to save his job – or erase the pain of this humiliation for thousands of angry, disenchanted Wolves fans.

It's been more than a decade since we last saw fans demonstrating outside the ground, when Sir Jack Hayward was spat at.

The nature and magnitude of this thoroughly depressing setback was the trigger for hundreds to gather around the Billy Wright statue after the game and chant for the head of the manager.

There were still fans singing 'We want McCarthy out' more than an hour after the final whistle. One day later they got their wish. It was a black day in the history of Wolverhampton Wanderers and a new low for McCarthy.

Mick McCarthy feels the pressure

A brief respite for Wolves as Steven Fletcher drags them level just before half-time

Trouble

Any defeat hurts, and a loss to Albion deepens the pain. But the manner of this capitulation – to employ the term used by McCarthy afterwards – cast a huge cloud over the club.

As Albion tore Wolves apart, there was the depressing sight of fans remonstrating angrily with people in the directors' box.

Trouble on and off the pitch, and it all led to the departure of a manager who was firmly entrenched in the deepest crisis of his reign. He has done a remarkable job over the last five-and-a-half years. It's difficult to imagine anyone getting more effort and commitment out of the players.

A more honourable man of more integrity you couldn't wish to find. At his press conference afterwards, he vowed to fight on, convinced he was still the man to ride the storm and lead Wolves to safety. But chairman Steve Morgan clearly decided McCarthy's presence had become counter-productive.

It seems there were a growing number of fans waiting to see him fail, and it is against that backdrop of discontent that Morgan had to weigh up whether his manager's time was up.

However, the fans' sniping at Morgan on Sunday about where he can stick his executive houses suggests the fans don't lay the blame squarely at the manager's door.

The defeat dropped Wolves back into the Premier League relegation zone, on goal difference. This time last season, they were bottom and two points from safety after beating Manchester United, with three more points than they have now.

But it's difficult to think the Wolves team of last season would have folded like this.

That they had dragged themselves level by half-time courtesy of Steven Fletcher's fantastically executed 10th goal of the season was a travesty after a truly awful first half. Wayne Hennessey made four fine saves before being wrong-footed by Dave Edwards' deflection off Peter Odemwingie's low shot after he cut inside Matt Jarvis after 35 minutes.

Wolves started the second half well and Fletcher was inches away from giving them the lead only for his shot to deflect just wide off Jonas Olsson. Hennessey then undid his good work by dropping Olsson's routine shot to give Albion a 64th-minute lead.

Wolves went close again when Ben Foster made a superb reflex save from Fletcher's towering header before a similar effort from Roger Johnson was headed onto the bar by Youssouf Mulumbu.

But, in between, the alarm bells were beginning to ring loudly as Kevin Foley cleared off the line from Odemwingie. And from then on, Wolves were simply crushed.

More catastrophic defending allowed Odemwingie his second and Albion's third on 77 when he slid the ball home after Liam Ridgewell's header and Olsson's backheel following James Morrison's corner.

Everything that could have gone wrong did as old boy Keith Andrews drove home a fourth five minutes from time after Morrison skipped past Stephen Ward and crossed, followed by Odemwingie completing his hat-trick from close range on 88 minutes.

McCarthy gambled by playing three strikers from the start and it left Wolves woefully exposed in midfield, where they couldn't keep the ball and were left chasing shadows.

If ever there was a game crying out for Karl Henry and Emmanuel Frimpong, then this was it. But Wolves had to battle on without their two central midfielders.

Lantern shine for return to Premier

MAGIC LANTERN shone brightly to claim the Cannock Chase League Division One title.

They beat Yew Tree 7-3 to guarantee a quick return to the Premier League. Mick Gallet scored a hat-trick, Alan Wilkes bagged two and Jamie Simpkiss and Craig Smith added one each.

The Castle dented Lime Lane's promotion hopes in Division Four with a 2-1 win.

They trailed 1-0, but Keith Lewis equalised and Darren Brookes banged home the winner.

Rugeley Rangers piled the pressure on relegation-threatened Tackeroo by winning 3-1 with only 10 men. Ant Ewing and a double from Ash Warrilow sealed the victory.

Hen House, lying second in Division Five, thrashed Bridgtown Social 6-0. Both Elliott Richards and Liam Martin netted twice with one for Brad Martin and Simon Traat.

Leaders AFC Railway drew 1-1 with Church Hill.

Eased

Belt Road edged past Brereton Social Lion 3-1 after extra time in the Lichfield Charity Cup quarter-final. Star man Chris Deakin bagged two with one from Mike Barton.

In round four of the Cannock Chase Cup, Pelsall Bush knocked out Lea Hall 4-2 with a couple of goals each for Ryan Chapman and Danny Brown.

Last season's Cannock Charity Cup losing finalists Broomhill Albion eased through round two by lowering the colours of Trafalgar 2-0 with goals from Alan Dawson and Lee Millington.

Cheslyn Hay Athletic put Cheslyn Hay out of the Ron Terry Cup with a 3-1 win in round two.

Saddlers in sight of award for marketing

WALSALL FC have been shortlisted for a football marketing award.

The Saddlers, whose 2-1 defeat at Oldham on Tuesday was another blow in their bid to avoid relegation from League One, are up for the Perform Best Marketing Campaign at the Football League Awards 2012.

They face competition from five other clubs having made the final shortlist following judging by a panel of industry experts.

Walsall developed an early bird season ticket scheme which helped to drive up season ticket sales by 29 per cent.

Judges looked at the clubs which had best demonstrated results through the use of an innovative marketing campaign.

Walsall's rivals are Burnley, Cardiff City, Hartlepool United, Huddersfield Town and Hull City.

The 2011 winners were Reading, who developed a scheme to encourage female support at their ground.

This year's awards hass a total of 17 accolades with the winners being announced at ceremony in London on March 11.

Emphasis on fun at rugby club

PLAYERS from across Staffordshire will converge on Burntwood RUFC next week for fun rugby.

The club will host the first of three floodlit social 10-a-side events next Friday night, February 24 with Burton, Lichfield and Tamworth clubs also taking part.

It is aimed at players who do not play regularly on Saturdays with the emphasis on rugby played for fun.

Free hot food will be supplied to those who take part while there will also be free entry to an 80s disco afterwards in the clubhouse.

Anybody interested in taking part should call the clubhouse on 01543 676651.

Follow-up events take place at Burton on March 9 and Lichfield on March 16.

Burntwood firsts' league fixture at Spartans has been re-arranged for Saturday, February 25. This Saturday Burntwood host Leek at The Sportsway for a Midlands Two West North match.

The seconds are away at Wolverhampton and the thirds host Warley.

There is life after Marv, says Smith

by Craig Birch

HEDNESFORD prepare to return to Keys Park for their first home league game in more than a month with manager Rob Smith vowing there will be life after Marvin Robinson.

Tuesday night's Staffordshire Senior Cup match apart, the Pitmen have been out of action for two weeks due to the weather and have lost Robinson to the financial overtures of big-spending Brackley.

The former Derby County striker has swapped an Evo-Stik Northern Premier promotion challenge for one in the Southern League, where the Pitmen played last season.

Smith does without the 31-year-old for the first time in the league against Marine on Saturday and the Keys Park boss admitted he was powerless to stop the move.

He said: "I wanted him to stay but he was offered big money for this level of football and we simply aren't prepared to compete at that level. Marv was a top lad and did really well for us, I wish him all the best.

"I'm sure, like many of our supporters, we will remember his hat-trick in our 5-4 victory over Stafford Rangers. The overhead kick winner will stay in the memory for a very long time." Robinson's 96th-minute winner in a game last August which saw Hednesford overturn deficits of 3-0 and 4-2 was perhaps the highlight of his 16 months at the club.

But on Saturday night, Pitmen fans will be marking one of the most famous games in their history, the 15th anniversary of their FA Cup fourth round trip to Middlesbrough. The cast from the 3-2 defeat at the Riverside Stadium on January 25, 1997, when more than 6,000 Hednesford fans filled the away end, will be reunited at Keys Park.

They include manager John Baldwin, his assistant John Allen, two-goal hero Joe O'Connor and Colin Lambert, who put through his own net. Also attending are Scott Cooksey, Bernard McNally, Mick Smith, Don Drakeley, Paul Carty, Kevin Collins, Steve Essex, Andy Comyn, Stuart Lake, Gary Fitzpatrick and Steve Devine.

The event has been organised by Hednesford Town Supporters Association, who are urging supporters to bring memorabilia along from the day.

Joint chairman Scott Smith said: "Be it hats, scarves, pictures, posters or newspaper clippings – please bring them along in order for us to remember that great season."

Tickets are £12 for members and £14 for non-members and can be bought from the Strikers Bar before the game against Marine or by calling 07919 912 811.

MORGAN RETURNS TO HUNT FOR BOSS

OWNER Steve Morgan has flown back from holiday as Wolves seek a new manager after sacking Mick McCarthy.

Morgan was on a skiing trip when Sunday's 5-1 Molineux derby defeat by Albion culminated in him ending McCarthy's five-and-a-half year reign next morning.

Morgan has been updated by chief executive Jez Moxey on the candidates lining up to fill the breach.

by Martin Swain

Wolves have described as "pure guesswork" reports that a three-man shortlist of Alan Curbishley, Neil Warnock and Steve Bruce had been compiled.

But the club expect to conduct interviews of their favoured few by Thursday in the hope that the new boss can have a full week to prepare for the trip to Newcastle and the start of the club's 13-game bid for Premier League survival.

Curbishley, who has topped fans' polls since McCarthy's exit and pulled in a hefty 38 per cent of more than 6,700 fans in an online vote for the Chronicle's sister paper, the Express & Star, does have an admirer in Morgan and is high on Wolves' checklist.

Popular

But the club are less enthusiastic about Bruce and Warnock following their sackings from Sunderland and QPR respectively this season.

Wolves are focused primarily on choosing a man to lead the team out of the current relegation peril.

Popular former captain Paul Ince, whose initial managerial path has been blighted ever since his Premier League chance at Blackburn, is among them having indicated that he would relish the 13-game challenge to reach safety.

"Paul would love the opportunity to show what he can do," said a source close to the man who was McCarthy's main rival for the job in 2006.

Morgan said after the decision to end McCarthy's contract the board felt it had "little or no choice".

The club took the "difficult decision" after a poor run of results left them facing relegation.

Pressure on the boss, who is expected to leave with a £1m compensation payout, reached a critical point with the humiliating Molineux loss to the Baggies.

But Wolves' previous alarming sequence of results after early season optimism – just 14 points from the previous possible 66 – was the main concern for club owner Morgan and Moxey.

Morgan said: "I'm afraid the board thought we had little or no choice.

"Mick and I have had several conversations in recent weeks. He's a good guy and the decision was taken regretfully, but results have not been good enough."

Rugby rivals form coalition for challenge

RUGELEY and Cannock rugby clubs are on their way to Twickenham.

Cannock Chase MP Aidan Burley has invited them to put together a side to take on the combined Houses of Commons and Lords side at rugby's HQ.

The game will be on April 17 in aid of the RFU Injured Players Foundation.

The Parliament team has played at Twickenham for a number of years – but it is the first time grass roots clubs have been invited.

Stuart Cheshire, Cannock captain and junior coach, said: "It is a dream for us to play a match at the home of rugby. Many of our players thought such an opportunity had passed them by, so we are delighted that Aidan has been able to arrange this for us."

The two clubs have been rivals for decades but Rugeley director Martin de Ridder, who began his playing career as a junior with Cannock, does not see a problem.

Quickly

"I think the once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to play on the Twickenham pitch will mean any inter-club rivalries will be quickly forgotten as we try to beat the Parliamentary team," he said.

"Aidan spoke at our annual dinner on two hours' notice just days after he was elected and also pulled on a Rugeley shirt for our match against Birmingham Barbarians. "

Year Seven teams Cannock Academy and Hagley Park Academy will play a warm-up fixture.

The MP is secretary of the Commons & Lords Rugby Club and organised the annual charity game. "I am delighted that both clubs in my constituency will get this fantastic opportunity," he said.

Forward the motion – MP Aidan Burley carrying the ball for Rugeley

Pitmen's progress is halted by Potters

Hednesford Town 1
Stoke City 2

HEDNESFORD can count themselves unlucky to bow out of the Staffordshire Senior Cup at the quarter-final stage.

The Evo-Stik Northern Premier Division side frustratingly failed to turn numerous goalscoring chances into a victory on Tuesday night.

The Pitmen, playing their first game at Keys Park since January 7, started encouragingly and looked threatening in attack against superior opposition with Chris Clements and Elliott Durrell proving dangerous foils for Nick Wellecomme and Mark Beesley.

Keeper Dan Crane saw a couple of shots flash wide before Hednesford opened the scoring on 31 minutes, a Clements through ball piercing the Stoke defence allowing Wellecomme to confidently lift the ball over the onrushing keeper.

Stoke's fluid passing style and athletic physique allowed them to exert pressure on the home side and they levelled with a hotly-contested penalty as Lucas Dawson sent Crane the wrong way on 43 minutes.

Ben Bailey missed a golden chance on the stroke of half-time and both Beesley and Kyle Haynes could have scored inside the opening 10 minutes of the second half.

Liam Blakeman ballooned over towards the hour mark and Stoke hit their opponents with a sucker punch as the game drifted towards extra time, Marcel Barrington finishing past Crane with five minutes to go.

Hednesford Town: Crane, Bailey, Haynes (Suckling 86), Dunkley, Johnson, Denny, Durrell, Clements, Wellecomme (31) (Landell 63), Beesley, Blakeman (Jevons 80). Subs not used: Landell, Jevons, Suckling, Grice, Allen. Attendance: 180.
